

National Apprenticeship Day Proclamation

Acknowledging All of Summit Fire & Security's Apprentices

April 30, 2025

On this National Apprenticeship Day, we proudly recognize the next generation of skilled tradespeople.

Being in an apprenticeship program isn't just about starting a new chapter — it's about honoring the path that thousands of tradespeople have walked before. It's about learning a craft that protects lives and property. It's about joining a team that works hard, looks out for one another, and takes pride in doing things the right way.

From threading pipe to reading prints, from early call times to inspections — this trade will test you, teach you, and transform you. You'll earn your stripes one fitting, one panel, and one certification at a time.

As we celebrate apprentices across the country, we're proud to have you on our team and a part of our apprenticeship programs. Learn with grit. Show up ready. And remember: every master was once where you stand today.
